

Call for Papers: Doctoral Colloquium Pre-Conference of the International Society for Media, Religion and Culture

August 4, 2020

The International Society of Media, Religion & Culture will be hosting a Pre-Conference for doctoral students on the morning of the first day of the ISMRC bi-annual conference at the Sigtuna Foundation, Sweden, 4-7 August 2020..

This pre-conference will provide doctoral students the opportunity to present their research, receive feedback from leaders in the field, discuss theoretical, methodological and professional challenges, as well as network with other peers.

Interested students should prepare a 500-800 word extended abstract of their thesis/major research project and a sample paper/chapter (up to 5000 words) of writing related to the topic.

All materials are to be prepared in English and are due on or before 17 Jan 2020.

Please send all applications to the Doctoral Colloquium Chair, Associate Professor Henrik R. Christensen (hc@cas.au.dk), with subject: ISMRC doctoral colloquium application. Questions may also be directed to the same email.

Deadline for Paper proposals: 17 Jan 2020

Notification of acceptances: end of February 2018
