

A Media Ecology of Theology

by Paul A. Soukup, S.J.

Communicating Faith throughout the Christian Tradition

Use code 17AARSBL22 at baylorpress.com receive 30% off + FREE US shipping.

“By examining the nature and function of theology through the lens of communication forms, with particular attention to the theological expressions throughout history, from the earliest Christian communities to contemporary culture, the book offers a systematic reflection and important addition to the conversation about belief and religious experience. Featuring a comprehensible writing style and a consistent approach, A Media Ecology of Theology is a timely and thought-provoking review of the Christian tradition in light of the web of interdependencies and the development of various forms of communication ecologies.”

—Paolo Granata, Book & Media Studies Assistant Professor and Program Coordinator, University of Toronto

~~$39.99~~ $27.99 • 9781481316040 • 214 pages • Paper • 6 x 9

Expires 12/31/22